The Bride a Sister of Dr. Phillips Formerly of Jackson.

A press dispatch dated Berkeley, Oct. 8, gives the following account of the marriage of Dr. Clarence Page and Miss Julia Phillips, a sister of Dr. L. E. Phillips, for a number of years a practicing physician and surgeon of Jackson. The bride has a number of acquaintances here, she having visited her brother's family in Jackson several times:

Over 300 guests were present this evening at the wedding of Miss Julia Phillips and Dr. Clarence Page, which took place at the First Presbyterian church in Berkeley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lapsley McAfee. The church decorations were in rainbow colors, and the same brilliant hues were used with pretty effect in the gowns worn by the bridal party.

The bride was gowned in white mesaline satin, in the fashionable Empire style, and the costume was finished with a veil. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Page, a sister of the bridegroom. Miss Page was gowned in pale blue organdie and carried an armful of asparagus fern.

The attractive bride was also attended by eight bridesmaids, who were gowned in the rainbow colors and carried asparagus ferns. They were the Misses Nina and Leona Schman, Leona Morris, Lou Frisbie, Edith Bates, Sally Kerr, Agnes Benedict and Lucy Robinson. Rodney Phillips, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. An informal reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs K. S. Phillips, followed the ceremony at the church.

The bride is a winsome girl, with many friends, and a graduate of a fashionable school in Berkeley. Dr. Page is a well-known professional man of the college town. After a honeymoon trip the couple will return to reside in the pretty home which awaits them in Berkeley.

Silas Penry on His Canvassing Tour

It appears from the following account of a meeting of the democratic candidates in Sacramento, that Silas Penry, formerly of Jackson, is having a strenuous time in his candidacy on the democratic ticket for Assemblyman against that veteran republican, Grove L. Johnson:

Penry was introduced by Chairman Sullivan. Penry took occasion in the course of his speech to call attention to the record of his opponent, Grove L. Johnson, who has always been subservient, he said, to organization interests. After declaring Johnson is not a man who serves the best interests of the people, Penry said:

"And now I ask you for your votes. I want the votes of all the people. 'No,' said the candidate for the assembly, after a pause, 'I don't think I do; I don't want the vote of the chief editor of The Bee, and I am inclined to put the chief editor of the Union in the doubtful column also.'"

"Then where do you expect to get your votes from?" inquired some individual from the audience.

"From the people," replied Penry, promptly.

"Well, you'll get it in the neck," returned the man who had put the question.

A GOOD REASON.

Jackson People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Jackson people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs J. Cook, living on Broadway, Jackson, Cal., says: "I can vouch for the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time and nothing helped me until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the City Pharmacy. I was in a run down condition, my back ached constantly, I had frequent dizzy spells, and my kidneys did not act properly. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills strictly as directed, they gave me relief from the first, I continued their use and was cured. My kidneys are now in a good condition and my back is well and strong. I am only too glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

LE DOUX CASE

RE-SUBMITTED.

The Stockton Independent of yesterday says:

Emma LeDoux, convicted of the murder of Albert N. McVicar in the famous trunk mystery case, and sentenced by Judge Nutter to be hanged after one of the most noteworthy criminal trials that has ever been conducted in this section of the state, is among the happiest of women.

It has been ordered by the supreme court that her case be re-submitted for oral argument before the court sitting en banc at Sacramento. The death of Justice McFarland made necessary the order. No date has been set for the hearing.

The case attracted unparalleled attention throughout the country at the time and the successful prosecution of the case by District Attorney McNoble, owing to the unusual circumstances of the murder and the lack of seemingly the main essentials to bring about a conviction, was heralded as one of the most brilliant achievements by way of prosecutions that has been recorded in this section.

It will be recalled that Emma LeDoux and Albert N. McVicar visited Stockton and took up apartments at the California house. Later a big trunk was brought to their apartments by an expressman. The trunk, supposed to be filled with dishes, was removed from the room and taken to the Southern Pacific depot. It remained there several days, until peculiar odors from the trunk aroused the suspicion of agent Thompson, who was then in charge, and the officials were notified. The trunk was opened and the feet of McVicar shot upward as though released by a spring. It was demonstrated during the trial that McVicar had drunk chloral in some whiskey. Mrs LeDoux was sentenced to be hanged. An appeal was taken by Attorney C. H. Fairall. Mrs LeDoux is still in the local jail.

Short Allowance for Power.

Because of the continuance of dry weather, and the shortage of water, everything dependent upon electric and water power is running on short shift. For weeks the mills running by electricity have been hung up between the hours of 7 and 9 every evening, that being the time the heavy traffic is on in San Francisco. The street lights have been shut off from Jackson. During the day time no electric lights are permitted after 9 o'clock in the morning. This policy is to economize water as much as possible for the benefit of the mining industry. The mines will be kept going so long as the power supply holds out. Most of the power is now coming from outside the county. If the rains do not come within the next two weeks the famine will become serious for all interests.

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1863, I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief, until Mr A. W. Miles, of this place, persuaded me to try Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale by Jackson Drug Store Spagnoli, Prop.

Cattle Getting Out.

The Plasse brothers started yesterday morning to bring down the balance of their stock cattle from the mountain ranges. All stockmen who have stock still in the mountains are driving out as fast as possible. The lack of water in the home ranges induced them to continue as long as possible in the mountains. The advent of rain has relieved the situation in this respect materially.

Mattley's band came down Sunday. Beilumini stock are all out, and Kirkwoods are on the way down.

Dr. Phillips Here.

Dr. L. E. Phillips, the well-known physician and surgeon, arrived here Friday evening to settle some business affairs. He was accompanied by Rankin, of San Francisco, a brother-in-law of Mrs Phillips. The doctor left here early in the year to take charge as physician of the Pas Robles Springs, in San Luis Obispo county. He resigned his position there the first of this month, and is now located at Palo Alto in San Mateo county. The doctor is looking remarkably well. He left for his home on Monday morning.

San Francisco offers great opportunities. Prepare for them by taking a course in the San Francisco Business College, 733 Fillmore St., S. F.

MINING NOTES.

Fremont.—The boarding house, recently destroyed by fire, is being rapidly rebuilt. The frame work was all up early this week and it was expected to have it ready for occupancy the end of this week or the beginning of next. The mine is looking well, as well, so we are informed as at any period in its history. Dividends have not been resumed, but the surplus, which was depleted by the disaster of the fire a year ago, has been accumulating, and the dividend era is looked for shortly.

Bunker Hill.—This company declared its twenty-third monthly dividend on the 15th instant of three cents per share, distributing $6,000 to its stockholders. The mine continues to look well, justifying the belief that dividends will be in order for an indefinite period.

Amador's Mineral Output For Last Year.

State mineralogist L. E. Aubrey has just issued the bulletin showing the mineral production for the various counties of the state for the year 1907. According to this the total mineral product of Amador is given as follows:

Gold	82,116,182
Silver	8,967
Copper	1,020
Brick and pottery clay	13,992
Limestone	1,200

Total value $2,145,909
Product in 1906 2,305,943

Decrease $160,034
The total mineral output of our neighboring counties is given as follows: Calaveras, $1,789,642; Tuolumne, $98,449; El Dorado, $413,113. These figures show the aggregate value of all minerals produced. It will be seen that Amador county holds up its output much better than most of the other counties on the mother lode. We stand third in the list of gold producers, being surpassed only by Butte, $2,786,840, and Nevada, $2,162,083. Last year Amador's contribution to the gold supply was fully one-eighth of the total output of California, the total for the state being $16,727,928, for both gold and silver.

Cold Weather Advice

to all is to beware of coughs and colds on the chest; as neglected they readily lead to pneumonia, consumption or other pulmonary troubles. Just as soon as the cough appears treat it with Ballard's Horehound Syrup the standard cure of America. Use as directed—perfectly harmless. A cure and preventive of all diseases of the lungs. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Kuhser's City Pharmacy.

A BIG BALL GAME.

Jackson Wins From Sacramento.

The baseball game last Sunday between the regular team of the Jackson social and athletic club, and a nine from Sacramento, was the biggest event in that line that has been played in the county for years. It drew an immense concourse to the grounds just beyond the Zeila mine. Every town in the county was represented, and many came from beyond the Amador boundaries. The visiting team arrived about 11 o'clock Sunday morning in two automobiles, and were greeted royally by the local men in true sportsmanlike fashion. They came full of confidence in their ability to win easily. Indeed, they were under the impression that they were up against novices in the game. At the outset a bet of $100 was staked on the outcome, Sacramento made the bluff, and it was quickly called from the Amador side. The Jackson boys were in fine form for playing. They were conscious that they were pitted against good players; and resolved to give the visitors the best that was in them. They acquitted themselves well. In the first innings the Jackson team scored two runs. This was the only score made during the game. The Sacramentos did their best to score, but without avail, and at the close of the ninth innings the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the home boys. This is the biggest victory scored by Jackson yet. The Sacramento team has been defeating everything they went against right along, and expected to do the same here. The line-up was as follows:

Jackson		Sacramento
Arditto	p.	Houser
L. White	c.	Lehman
J. Thomas	1st b.	Sheehan
R. Fortner	2d b.	Wakefield
R. Miller	3d b.	Mulligan

TAX RATES IN CALIFORNIA.

The following shows the tax rate in the different counties of the state for the current year, both inside and outside of incorporated towns:

	1908	Yuba
	Inside.	Outside.
Amador	$1 55	$2 00	Alameda	1 36
Butte	1 65	2 04	Alpine	—
Calaveras	—	2 10	Contra Costa	1 10
Colusa	1 20	1 60	Fresno	1 20
Del Norte	1 50	1 85	Imperial	1 80
El Dorado	1 60	2 00	Inyo	1 25
Glenn	1 85	2 25	Kern	1 25
Humboldt	1 30	1 90	Lake	1 10
Lassen	1 40	1 80	Los Angeles	1 10
Modoc	1 36	1 65	Madera	1 55
Napa	1 26	1 62	Marin	1 13
Nevada	2 00	2 50	Merced	1 36
Placer	1 45	1 85	Monterey	1 40
Plumas	—	2 00	Orange	1 30
Sacramento	1 66	1 66	Riverside	1 35
San Joaquin	1 65	1 85	San Benito	1 67
Shasta	1 75	2 10	San Bernardino	1 60
Sierra	1 75	2 25	San Diego	1 50
Siskiyou	1 05	1 45	San Luis Obispo	1 45
Solano	1 35	1 75	San Mateo	1 16
Sonoma	1 55	1 90	Santa Barbara	1 60
Sutter	1 30	1 70	Santa Clara	1 29
Tehama	1 22	1 60	Tulare	1 30
Trinity	—	2 25	Tuolumne	1 40
Yolo	1 05	1 45	Ventura	2 15
			Stanislaus	1 20

We may state that the difference between the higher and lower rates shows the amount levied for road purposes in the respective counties. For instance, in Amador county the outside rate is $2, and the inside rate, or the rate for the incorporated city of Jackson is $1.55; the difference of 45 cents represents the levy for road purposes, which is not collectable within the city limits. There are fourteen counties in the above list which have a higher tax rate than Amador, five other counties having the same rate, and thirty-two with a lower rate. Yuba has the distinction of being the heaviest taxed county in the state, $2.70. Siskiyou enjoys the reputation of the lowest taxed community, $1.45. This is remarkable for a sparsely settled and to a great extent undeveloped border county of large proportions. As a rule the mining counties are pretty well loaded up with the exactions of the toll gatherer, while the agricultural sections are comparatively lightly taxed. As compared with last year the rates are slightly lower, owing chiefly to the reduction of 4½ cents in the state tax. Twenty-six counties have managed to reduce the tax levy, while thirty have imposed higher rates than for the preceding year. The average rate for the 58 counties in 1907 was 1.5364 and for 1908 it is $1.5153. So that the average reduction throughout the state is less than the reduction of 4½ cents on the state tax. From this the conclusion is inevitable that while the rate for state purposes has been reduced, the saving thereby effected has been more than offset by the advanced rates for county purposes. The average rates herein given are for the county funds only, leaving the state tax out of the calculation. The tax rate in Amador county is about 3½ cents on the $100 higher than the average throughout the state. On a basis of a total assessment of $5,500,000 this amounts to a trifle less than $2000 per year that Amador property holders are called upon to contribute for local purposes over and above the average county rate. No solid reason can be advanced why this county should be above the average at all. In a small territory like Amador, with the population concentrated within comparatively narrow limits, and without any interest-bearing indebtedness, the tax rate ought to be below rather than above the average.

The unprecedented quietness of the present presidential is somewhat of a poser for the political wisecracks. It is equally hard to explain the reason of it, or what it portends. Neither side has any advantage in this respect.

Every voter should turn out to hear congressman Englebright, who is scheduled to speak in Jackson on the 24th inst. Let it be the meeting of the campaign, as a fitting recognition of a faithful and able representative.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

With election day less than one month away a pretty clear idea of the outcome is, nevertheless, apparent to the close observer. Waving aside personal wishes and desires, and admitting that the struggle in some states will be vigorous and close, the "Nugget" believes that the final outcome can now be foretold with reasonable accuracy. There are 483 votes in the Electoral College this year, and the winner in the race for the presidency must therefore secure at least 242 votes. We predict that the vote will stand:

Taft and Sherman.
California	10
Colorado	5
Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Idaho	3
Illinois	27
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kansas	10
Maine	6
Maryland	8
Massachusetts	16
Michigan	14
Minnesota	11
Montana	3
Nebraska	8
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	12
New York	30
North Dakota	4
Ohio	23
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	34
Rhode Island	4
South Dakota	4
Utah	3
Vermont	4
Washington	5
West Virginia	7
Wisconsin	13
Wyoming	3
Total	322

Bryan and Kern.
Alabama	11
Arkansas	9
Florida	5
Georgia	13
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	9
Mississippi	10
Missouri	18
Nevada	3
North Carolina	12
Oklahoma	7
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	12
Texas	18
Virginia	12
Total	161

According to this estimate, which appears to us to be a reasonable one at this time, Taft and Sherman will receive just twice the number of electoral votes that will be cast for Bryan and Kern. The campaign has been devoid of enthusiasm, brass bands, marching clubs and red fire up to the present time, but the press throughout the country reflects a fixed and sturdy determination to continue the Roosevelt policies of applying the laws of our country to the rich and the poor alike, giving to every person, corporation, or association a square deal. This sentiment will grow stronger as election day approaches, and many independent and conservative men who entertain a friendly feeling for Mr. Bryan will go to the polls on the 3d of November with the mental remark to himself "Let well enough alone," and cast their votes for Taft and Sherman.—Placerville Nugget.

Pioneer flour is the best; have no other.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Divica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system. He continues "in Helonias we have a remedy which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and a chronic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Fyfe's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful or difficult menstruation)."

Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

OLETA.

Oct. 12—Laurence Burke formerly of Oleta, is up on a visit to friends and relatives for a few days.

Miss Armstrong and Mazey Knapp paid Plymouth a visit Saturday last. Rumor has it that Mrs. Schilling, who formerly resided here, but now of Sacramento, is paying her old-time friends a visit once more.

Henry Schroeder is not able to attend to his duties in the store, owing to ill health. He is confined to the house. His daughter, Mrs. Hensh, is in attendance at the store during her father's illness.

Glen Gilbert paid Jackson a flying visit the first part of the week. He claims he was over to see Mr. Strohm about road work, but the roads as a general rule don't interest the young men. I think there must be far better prospects in or around the city for him than road work, at least it looks that way.

The brush fires were raging above Oleta last week, but no damage was done except the loss of some fences.

Miss Katie Schroeder is reported not to be so well for several days past.

Henry Neff's family are talking of moving above Indian Diggings, where Henry is employed as ditch tender.

The ladies' sociable given by Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Ginn last Saturday was a success, also the lunch. Those present were Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Ginn, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. J. Deaver, Mrs. E. Mettler, Mrs. E. McClary, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. C. Bell, Mrs. I. Pigeon, Mrs. S. Clark, Mrs. P. Schroeder and daughter Mrs. G. Hite, Misses Elsie Hill, Bessie Neff, Lulu Bradian, Viola Shealer, Hazel Smith. All had an enjoyable time and departed wishing the social came oftener.

Mrs. Van Valkensberg departed Monday for Sacramento, from where she will go to her home in Los Angeles. Pansy.

Correspondence Record.

Oct. 9.—The cattle owners of this section are bringing their cattle out of the mountains. They think this week will about finish the rounding up.

E. Bamert arrived home with stock on Sunday last. R. C. Pardoe and men brought out most of their stock last Friday and have returned to bring out the rest.

R. W. Barnett and J. Dufrene are expected home with their cattle this week.

W. Swain acted as stage driver Tuesday while the owner, J. Lynes, made a business trip to Lockeford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Early returned from Stockton last week.

Mrs. W. Amick is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Van Sandt, near here.

Miss Mildred Baird returned from Lodi last week, where she spent the past three weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Wilson Blair.

Miss Ethel Van Sandt came up from Stockton to attend the dance at Wallace Saturday, returning Monday.

J. Moore was a passenger down on the stage Monday to Stockton.

The Misses Amick and Asbury of Ione spent a few days with the former's sister, Mrs. Fannie Van Sandt, and attended the Wallace dance while here.

Mrs. W. Lipkeman, who has been quite ill at her home here for the past two weeks, is able to be about again.

E. Ekels and family intend moving into the A. F. Adams cottage near here the first of the week. Mr. Ekels is interested in mining on the same place.

Much trouble is being experienced by the renters of boxes on the Barnett telephone line this week, the severe windstorm of last week having entangled the wires.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

Walter McArthur Addresses Citizens From a Labor Standpoint.

The first political gun in Amador county for this presidential campaign was fired by the democrats on Wednesday evening. It was announced as a democratic rally, and Walter McArthur, was billed as the centre attraction. In fact, he was solitary speaker, except the preliminary small talk by locals. The weather proved anything but propitious from a political outlook. The rain was descending in torrents when the time for opening the meeting drew near. The Military band played in front of Love's hall to gather the crowd. Somehow there was a noticeable failure to respond by a general outpour of citizens, as was wont to be the case in years gone by. The attractive force of campaign oratory has been on the wane for years. The enthusiasm of hand-clapping and cheering, and brass bands and processions have in a great measure ceased as the necessary accompaniments of the spell-binders.

When the hour for opening the meeting came, the hall was a long way from being filled. Indeed the empty spaces were as conspicuous as the filled seats. Dr. Endicott, as chairman of the county central committee, opened the meeting by a brief speech, in which he jokingly said the democrats were certain to elect three candidates, namely, Strohm, as supervisor, Judge Rust for superior judge, and William Jennings Bryan, as president.

R. C. Bole was elected chairman of the evening, and spoke briefly, and announced eight or nine vice-presidents, among them being James Meehan, C. L. Culbert, T. Hedgepeth, C. Giovannoni and L. G. Glavinovich, who were called to the platform to grace the background of the meeting, and do the lion's share of the hand-clapping and cheering in a perfunctory way at any pointed remarks of the speaker.

Walter McArthur was introduced. He is president of the Seaman's Union and editor of the Pacific Coast Seaman's Journal, the organ of that union. He said he had been identified with the labor movement all his life, and was there to talk from a labor union standpoint. That if the issues of the campaign were confined to tariff or financial matters, he would not be taking part in the canvass. He admitted plainly that the vital question to him and others associated with him in unionism, was the stand assumed in the platforms of the two great parties on the question of injunction and the judiciary. He then went on to explain the labor movement, claiming that workingmen could not get a square deal from their employers unless they were organized, and worked as a unit. Unions had different ways of enforcing their demands for improvement of their conditions of employment. There was the strike and the boycott. They appealed to the public through a free press, the right of assembly and free speech. They depended upon the sympathy of the public for their rights. If that sympathy was on their side they would win, if otherwise, they would lose. The evident drift of the argument was that public opinion should be the court of appeal without any interpolation of the processes of the courts, by injunctions. In other words mob law should prevail. The democratic platform advocated radical changes in the judicial branch of the government by curtailing the power of the courts to issue injunction in labor disputes. He contended that the stand of the judiciary in such matters, if continued, would destroy the labor union movement. Hence, he was in favor of Bryan and democracy, because of the curbing of the judicial branch in the interest of labor disputes.

He was also in favor of the Bryanite proposition of government guarantee of deposits in banks. The present banking system was about the worst that could be. Any change must be in the direction of improvement. A change could not possibly be for the worse, and with this lucid exposition of this financial question, he retired, and the meeting was at an end.

As soon as he quit talking there was a scramble of those perched on the platform to get down from their conspicuous position as quickly as possible. In their haste to retreat, they forgot all about Bryan and democracy. So that not a solitary cheer went up for the peerless one. It was a cold wind-up, prelude to the chill blasts that will roll from the ballot boxes in November against the fantasies of Bryan in his third and last campaign to capture the presidency.

A Pioneer Lady Passes Away.

Mrs. Wildman of Sutter Creek, died in the Children's Hospital of San Francisco, on Wednesday evening last, after a long illness. Deceased was one of the pioneer women of Amador county, having arrived here in the early fifties with her husband, W. T. Wildman, and settled in Sutter Creek. Her husband preceded her to the grave about nine years ago. Deceased was a woman of estimable qualities, and liked by all with who she became acquainted. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. W. J. McGee of Sutter Creek, and Mrs. J. Kirkland of Los Angeles; also a sister, Mrs. C. C. Belding, of Oroville, formerly of Sutter Creek. The remains will be forwarded to Sutter Creek today, and the funeral will take place in that town at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The Prig and His Cane.

In the number of the Tatler for Oct. 6, 1700, it is observed that "a cane is part of the dress of a prig" (this, by the way, shows the erroneous notion prevalent that "priggishness" is a modern word) "and always worn upon a button, for fear he should be thought to have an occasion for it or be esteemed really and not genteelly a cripple."

In the number of Nov. 18 a rural squire in town is sketched who is the prototype of one of the pavement nuisances: "His arms naturally swung at an unreasonable distance from his sides, which, with the advantage of a cane that he brandished in a great variety of irregular motions, made it unsafe for any one to walk within several yards of him."

And under date of Dec. 5 there is an amusing sketch of "a lively, fresh colored young man" who was among the applicants to Isaac Bickerstaff's court of censorship for license to use "canes, perspective glasses, snuffboxes, orange flower waters and the like ornaments of life." This young man had his cane hanging on his fifth button and was "an Oxford scholar who was just entered at the temple."

A Wedding Superstition.

It has been considered unlucky to be married in May ever since the days of Ovid, and those people who have spent their time in looking up roots and reasons have given what they consider to be the origin of the superstition as follows:

In ancient Rome there was held in May a festival called the Lemuria, or feast of the Lemures, which was a ceremony in honor of the speeches of departed souls. It became with the Romans what we should call "bad form" to have matrimonial feasts at the season of a solemn ritual, being no doubt thought to be an insult to the dead to marry at such a time. From this a number of stories grew of the revenge made by the outraged ghosts upon those who dared to disregard them, and if anything unfortunate happened to a couple who had been married in May it would, of course, have been put down to retribution. So the tradition of ill luck arose, and its influence has lasted ever since, even to our time.

Towed by a Halibut.

About the mouths of the streams on which salmon camps are situated the Indian dogs and children amuse themselves catching the fish. Some of the youngsters are so small that after they have succeeded in cornering a fish the combined efforts of the party are often required to dispatch it and carry it to camp. I have watched dogs running about in a rift snapping at the salmon and apparently having the time of their lives.

One of the most amusing sights that I saw during my stay in Alaska was two Indian boys being towed about the harbor at Kadiak by a huge halibut they had just hooked. Utterly unable to land the fish, they had fastened the line to the stern of the boat, and while they pulled with all their might, each one at an oar, they rallied each other for not exerting more strength and shouted loudly for help. Finally an Indian put out in a boat, and the fish was landed.—Forest and Stream.

Bewildering Franco.

There are in France two Bordeaux, the one in the Gironde and a tiny place in the Loiret. There are two Toulouses, the old town in the Haute-Garonne and Toulouse du Jura, a village with 630 inhabitants, near Lons-le-Saunier. There is Tours in Touraine, Balzac's Tours in the Indre-et-Loire and Tours, a village in Savoy, near Albertville. There are seven St. Cyrs, simple St. Cyrs, that is, and twenty-four with something tacked on to them; seven St. Denises and forty-seven with some addition, fourteen St. Germain and 114 with something tacked on.

Great Lovers of Water.

The Siamese are more devoted to the water than any other nation in the world. They are nearly always bathing, generally with their clothes on, and they never go anywhere by land if they can possibly go by water. The streets of Bangkok are like those of Venice, and the inhabitants say that their idea of paradise would be a town with canals where there were currents in both directions, so that they might be spared the effort of rowing.

The Sorrow of It.

"It's too bad," observed the man who seemed to be thinking aloud. "What's too bad?" queried the party who had overheard the observation. "That our neighbors always know when we have fried onions for supper, but never get next when we have strawberries and ice cream," explained the noisy thinker.—Chicago News.

City Trustees.

Pursuant to last adjournment the board of trustees met last evening; all members present. President Garbarini in the chair.

Ordinance No. 42, an ordinance concerning the keeping of saloons, etc., was read the second time, and was amended so as to go into effect February 1, 1909, instead of November 1. By the following vote: Geo. A. Kirkwood, Wm. Penry, Wm. Lam, H. Leam, V. S. Garbarini, voting yes. A Caminetti appeared before the board in opposition, as attorney for the saloon keepers. The cemetery committee was instructed to endeavor to procure a piece of land adjoining the present public cemetery, and report next regular meeting. Adjourned until Nov. 5.

DON'T HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity. To hide money is the hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

LOCAL NEWS

J. F. Wilson, Dentist, Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Phone—Office, black 444; residence, Black 394; Jackson.

Jas. E. Dye was a passenger for San Francisco Monday morning, as delegate from the local Masonic Lodge to the grand lodge which convenes in the city this week.

Lawrence Keith, who is arranging to start the moving picture business in the Webb building, went to San Francisco Monday morning. Owing to repeated failures to get the material he wanted for his business, he concluded to go to the city and select what he needed on the ground. He returned Wednesday evening. The scant supply of electric current, and the disposition to economize in this respect until the fall rains set in, is also a source of trouble, and may prevent him from opening up on the scale he contemplated.

S. G. Spagnoli came up from Richmond Friday evening on business concerning the Glavinovich store.

Jas. L. Fontenrose returned to Jackson the latter part of last week with the intention of remaining. He has been employed in an insurance office in the city.

A young man named Jones came out from Wales direct to Electra. He got here about two weeks ago, for the purpose of doing some fixing to the electric machinery at the big plant. He is very much taken up with California, and will send for his family as soon as he has concluded in which part of the state he will locate.

J. W. Frye for fifteen years with the Lick and Grand hotels, and for the last two years with the Hotel Dale, has assumed the management of the Hotel Von Dorn at San Francisco. Mr. Frye's many friends in this section will be pleased to greet him in his new house. Mr. Frye was born and raised in Volcano, and we in common with all his old and new time friends join in expressing our best wishes to him.

Gilbert Voorheis left Monday morning for a brief visit to San Francisco. His place at the National hotel has been temporarily filled by Mark Eudey.

At the Acme candy store a decided improvement has been made by excavating in the rear part so as to make the floor on a level with the front part. Heretofore there has been a step off of several inches from the back room to the front.

W. J. Nettle, superintendent of the Argonaut, who had to lay off for a few days on account of rheumatism, has returned to his work.

A representative of the Gollaber Company of San Francisco was in Jackson last Saturday looking into the stock of L. J. Glavinovich's store. He left Monday. What disposal will be made of the stock is still uncertain.

Pioneer flour is the best; have no other.

Badly Burned While on a Spree.

A man named W. T. Coleman was brought to the hospital last Monday, suffering from severe burns received the night before near Plymouth. He is about 33 years of age. It appears that he and three or four others were engaged in chopping wood near the Hay State mine. Sunday, being a non-labor day, they concluded to go to Plymouth and enjoy themselves after their own fashion. The boys got there all right, and became hilarious by frequent taps of the wine cup. Coleman got fairly well loaded up with liquor. In the afternoon he concluded to start for home, leaving his companions in the town. After traveling some distance, he rested and started a fire to warm himself. The fiery liquid he had absorbed failed to stave off the cold. After getting the blaze started he managed to roll into it with the result that his clothing caught fire. This roused him to energetic efforts for self-preservation. He pulled the burned clothing off with his hands, and finally, by his sole exertions, managed to extinguish the flames. After doing this, he traveled back to Plymouth to get his injuries attended to. He was severely burned about the right hand, also the fingers of the left hand, and about the breast, neck and face. He was brought to the hospital the next day for treatment, where he is doing nicely. The skin over a considerable portion of the burned surface has peeled off, and it will be some weeks before the scars are healed. The burns are superficial, and beyond losing the outside skin temporarily, no permanent disfigurement is likely.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the small of the back, and is quickly cured by applying Chamberlain's Liniment two or three times a day and massaging the parts at each application. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, Prop.

Democratic Political Tactics.

At the McArthur democratic meeting Wednesday night, everyone that went inside the hall was handed a four page sheet professing to show that the republican and democratic presidential candidates occupy extreme opposing views on the question of Chinese and Japanese immigration; that while Bryan is in favor of a strict exclusion law, the republicans favor the admission of Asiatics. Such political tactics are reprehensible. They appeal to prejudice from a false foundation. Everyone knows there is no division of sentiment on this question; that republicans and democrats alike do not want to admit Asiatics. Roosevelt, when the exclusion of Japanese from the schools of San Francisco was a vital matter, handled it delicately and diplomatically, thereby avoiding unnecessary friction. His views expressed at that time were distasteful to the Pacific coast dwellers, but he afterwards acknowledged that he was mistaken; and has done his utmost since to settle this matter in favor of the exclusion policy with the Japanese government. As a matter of fact Japanese laborers are no longer admitted to the United States. Even their admission to the Hawaiian islands, where they constitute the major part of the labor element, is being debated. To say that either Roosevelt or Taft, or the republican party favors Asiatic laborers is utterly false. These lying sheets do more harm to the democratic cause than to the republicans. They indicate how hard pressed the Bryanite men are for campaign ammunition. The exclusion of Asiatics is a dead issue as far as party policy is concerned. The screed circulated on this subject, printed by order of the democratic state central committee, and bearing the names of John E. Raker, chairman and John P. Murray, secretary; concludes "Bryan and safety, Taft and danger, what is your choice." What an insult to the intelligence of American voters, the vast majority of whom have made up their minds that the reverse would be about correct. "Taft and safety, Bryan and danger."

Our Next Assemblyman.

E. B. Moore, the republican candidate for the assembly, is now making a quiet canvass of Amador county. He arrived in Jackson yesterday, and will spend several days in interviewing the voters in the interest of his candidacy. The nominee is well-known in Amador, having conducted a hotel in Sutter Creek for several years. He has a host of friends, who will work with a vim to secure his election. That he will be elected by a big majority scarcely admits of a doubt. To his credit he said he is making his fight in a quiet and inexpensive way. To travel over his home county, Calaveras, and Amador is all that he is able to undertake, between now and election day. He may be depended upon to faithfully represent the wishes of his constituents.

Jaw Broken By a Ball.

A severe accident befell Robt. Brown, son of John A. Brown, the surveyor, last Sunday at the ball ground. Brown belonged to the Jackson nine, and intended to play with that team as catcher. He and Sockey Ardito were practicing before the commencement of the game. Houser and another of the Sacramento boys were also practicing in tossing a ball to and fro. Houser threw a swift ball, which his partner let pass. Brown at this time, intent upon his own practice, unconsciously got in the way of the speeding sphere. It struck him full force on the left cheek, knocking him senseless. There was quite an excitement over the untoward accident. It was several minutes before he came to. He was brought to town, and his injuries dressed by Dr. Endicott. It was found that he had sustained a fracture of the jaw near the cheek bone. Had the ball struck him a few inches higher up the blow would probably have resulted fatally. He was able to be around again after the disabled jaw was bandaged up. On Monday morning he left for his home in Sacramento.

A Generous Rain.

Wednesday afternoon a gentle rain commenced falling, and continued intermittently all through the night. For several hours the welcome down-pour was quite heavy, converting the dust into mud about the town streets, and effectually settling the dust on the county roads. By Thursday morning over an inch of rain had descended. It was a warm rain too, and reached far up in the mountains. This copious fall has wonderfully improved the situation from the water supply standpoint. It has almost dissipated the fears of a water famine as regards the mining interests. It takes considerable rain at the commencement of the season to have any effect in raising the streams. Two or three inches is absorbed by the soil after a long dry spell. Still it is believed that this first storm will insure an ample water supply for all purposes from now on.

The rainfall for the storm, as measured by the Ledger office gauge, is:

October 14	0.78
October 15	.37
Total	1.15
Total for season to date 1.51 inches.

Broke Both Wrists.

John Fox, an old resident of Scottsville, was the victim of a painful accident on Tuesday afternoon. He was gathering apples from a tree in his orchard, at a distance of fifteen feet from the ground. The limb he was bearing on gave way, and he fell head foremost to the earth. To save himself, he naturally threw out both arms, and the full force of the fall was met in this way. Both arms were fractured at the wrist, both bones being broken in each instance. Dr. Endicott was sent for and reduced the fractures. The patient is getting along in years. It will require the lapse of several weeks before he will regain the use of his arms.

A Narrow Escape

Chris Curlich, a well known miner employed at the Argonaut mine, came within a shave of meeting his death in the Argonaut mine on Wednesday morning. He was at work in the stopes. In some way he fell, and there was a distance of 75 feet between the point where he slipped and the bottom of the up-raise. After falling 25 feet, he managed to grasp one of the timbers, and held onto it until rescued. He escaped without any serious injury. A sprained ankle and a few bruises are the only reminders of his thrilling experience. In a few days he will be well enough to tackle his job again.

A Mail Pouch in its Travels

A mail pouch was received at the Jackson post office Tuesday stamped all over with the names of the different postmasters who had handled it in the transaction of the mail business. These signatures indicate that it had traveled over nearly all of the Atlantic, Middle West and Pacific coast states, one or more signatures of each state being affixed thereto. It will probably continue on its travels until it has been decorated with the writing of postmasters through the Southern states also, this section being about the only one not represented in the stamping business. It is circulated as a curiosity in its way. Of course, the postmasters are not required to affix their names to letter pouches in this way. But some one started the practice with this particular bag, and others followed suit, and so the endless chain has been kept in motion. The Jackson office added its stamp to the much signed pouch.

"The Iron Hand."

The play of "The Iron Hand" was presented in Love's hall on Saturday evening last by local amateurs. The entertainment was gotten up for the benefit of the Jackson Military Band. The hall was well-filled notwithstanding the drawback that the electric lights, on which the hall depends exclusively for illumination, were out of whack, so that darkness prevailed until after eight o'clock. The performers did very well in their respective roles, and altogether the play gave excellent satisfaction to all concerned. The cast of characters was as follows:

Oliver Montford, E. Marcucci
Harmon Van Dorn, S. F. Dalporta
Jack Milton, W. Tam
Old Ike, W. Schroeder
Hawkins, R. J. Kerr
Lizzie, Hazel Green
Mrs. Dibble, Mrs. W. J. Nettle, Jr.
Bella, Loretta Meshan

Satisfaction of Mortgage.—McDonald to Hartigan.

Reconveyance.—Culbert et al to Giovannoni.

Bond.—C. E. McKenzie as constable filed with G. B. Cassinelli and Peter J. Jonas as sureties, each in the sum of $2000.

Power of Attorney.—W. H. Glenn gives a power of attorney to W. L. Rose, authorizing the latter to sell by deed the Whitmore and North Whitmore quartz mines near Volcano as well as to transfer any stock of the Wissnoming M. Co.

Mortgage.—Wissnoming M. Co. to W. H. Glenn, the Whitmore and North Whitmore quartz claims near Volcano, $7000 due within one year with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

Special Notice.

Dr. H. Levinson, the well known San Francisco eye specialist, is in town now stopping at the National hotel, where he will remain for a week or more. He is well known around here and enjoys a reputation as an expert in optics second to none in the state. See him as it may save you a trip to the city. He is a graduate of one of the best colleges of Chicago and holds also a certificate of the California State Board of Examiners of optometry.

Glasses made to order to correct all errors of the eyes which are the cause of many ailments. Call, phone or leave word at the hotel and he will call at your residence.

Examination free. National Hotel, Room 2. Entrance through parlor.

Hit by a Rock.

In working in the Zeila mine Tuesday Rava Muirreich was struck in the back of the right hand by a falling rock, while his hand was resting on a timber. The blow caused him to loosen his grip and he fell four sets, striking on his head, and receiving further injury in this manner. The cut on the hand, however, is the most serious part of the mishap. An ugly gash was inflicted, Dr. Sprague was called to attend the case. He will be laid up for a week or so under the most favorable circumstances.

From Our Exchanges.

Rev. J. Appleton left on Monday's stage for Pine Grove. He expects to return the last of this week and will bring Mrs. Appleton with him.—Nugget.

On Thursday afternoon a man named C. Laidett, while employed painting the inside of a large pipe at Camp 9 of the Union Construction Company, applying paraffine paint, and working by candle light, was burned to death. The dripping paint caught fire from the lighted candle, and before Laidett could be got out of the pipe he was burned to a crisp. Deceased was a resident of West Point, this county, and had many friends who were shocked to hear of his awful death.—Angels Record.

Thursday afternoon two miners, Tom Melicevich and John Bedina, while at work in the tunnel of the Melones mine, using giant powder for "bulldozing" rock which was blasted from an open cut above. A blast of two shots was placed in a rock, and the two men then sought a place of safety, waiting until the shots had exploded. In a short time one shot went off, and the two men went back to resume work, thinking that both blasts had exploded. When they reached the rock they found one fuse still burning, and having no time to get away they tried to pull the fuse from the hole. They were too late, and the powder exploded, filling the bodies of both men with small pieces of rock. Each man was also blinded from the dirt and rock. Bedina's left eye was entirely destroyed, and he may lose the sight of the other. Melicevich may lose both eyes. The injured men were brought to this town immediately, and were operated on by Drs. Weirich and Cooper.—Angels Record.

The assessed valuation of all property in the city being $831,686, on motion of J. A. Sigwart the tax rate for the ensuing year was fixed as follows: For bond fund, 40 cents on each $100; general fund, 37 cents; library fund, 3 cents; total, 80 cents on each $100 valuation.—Nugget.

Charles Velasco, who burglarized the Brashear house, and Charles Pollard, another boy arrested on a like charge, were up before Judge Smith yesterday. Both were arraigned, declined the offer of the court of an attorney, pleaded guilty of burglary in the second degree, and were committed to the Preston School of Industry. Pollard was taken to Ione by Under Sheriff Rountree last evening.—Santa Cruz Surf.

The boys working the Hageman mine on the Calaveras river had a bad setback last week. Their whole shaft caved in on them, thus putting an end for the time being to the work. A new shaft will have to be sunk in order to work. Fortunately no one was injured by the cave, and they had sufficient warning to save about all their tools.—Prospect.

Patrick Carson, the man who stole Messenger's horse from near Campo Seco, about two weeks ago, and who was arrested in Amador county for the offense, was up before Judge Walter of the local justice court Monday. Owing to the advanced age of the culprit and other extenuating circumstances there was considerable sympathy for the old man, and the prosecution was not disposed to deal harshly with him. He was allowed to plead guilty to the crime of petty larceny, and Judge Walter sentenced him to six months in the county jail.—Prospect.

The registration of the county is now complete and enables us to give the correct figures for the county. The only change may be a few from one precinct to another that were not completed when this computation was made, but that will not change the total result. The total number of names on the Great Register is 2583 against 3105 in 1906, or a loss of 522. San Andreas township is the only one that shows a gain, it making a gain of three names. Mokelumne, loses 73; Murphys, 105; Angels, 197; Jenny Lind, 50.—Prospect.

Octogenarian Horseman.

Although over 80 years of age, Robert Marshall of Sonora is still in it when it comes to driving. While returning Saturday from a ranch he owns near Arasaville his span of horses got frightened and started to run. He held them in the middle of the road for over half a mile and finally brought the outfit to a standstill without injury to himself, the animals or rig.—Democrat.

BRYAN AND THE JUDICIARY

While Mr Bryan's policies, financial and economic, are dangerous enough to alarm the entire business community, they are really less ominous than his attitude toward the American judiciary. Mr Bryan's perpetual candidacy is a protest, not only against established laws, but against the rules and processes by which the laws are interpreted. He proposes a radical curtailment of the powers of our courts whereby those tribunals would be shorn of prerogatives which are essential to the correct and expeditious administration of justice. The inevitable effect of his scheme for jury trials in cases of indirect contempt would be to destroy the independence of the bench and deprive it of a function which is a vital element of judicial authority. To hold that an order in a case of contempt should be enforced only after it has been approved by a jury is as absurd as it would be to insist that a sentence imposed upon a defendant convicted of grand larceny should also be suspended until it had been reviewed by a jury. The analogy is clear and exact. Mr Bryan seeks to strip the judicial office of an important function and transfer it to the jury.

This, however, is the least perilous feature of Mr Bryan's program to impair the judiciary. His influence as an agitator has been exerted to excite public distrust of our courts, to undermine the abiding confidence of the people in their integrity and to inculcate the base belief that their great powers have been exercised for the advantage of the few at the expense of the many. He has insinuated that justices of our highest tribunals are appointed with a view to their usefulness to great private interests and in disregard for the public welfare. He has hinted that their decrees on important constitutional questions have been controlled by improper influences and he has made it reasonably clear that in the event of his election he would appoint as judges of the federal courts none but men upon whom he could depend to uphold his discredited policies if occasion should arise.

Mr Bryan scoffs at the popular compact which stipulates that our courts shall be kept sacred from partisan criticism. He cares nothing for the fact that the people have, almost from the birth of the republic, agreed that our legal tribunals shall be held above the rivalry of party controversy. The whole tendency of his utterances has been to belittle the integrity and wisdom of our courts in the respect of the people. Instead of teaching that our legal tribunals should be kept above suspicion he has subjected them to irresponsible partisan criticism and contention.

In the event of his election to the presidency Mr Bryan probably would have to appoint four justices of the United States supreme court and of a much larger number of judges for the lower branches of the federal judiciary. To entrust him with a power of such grave import in its possible consequences is a proposal from which thoughtful citizens will shrink in alarm. It would place in a position of vast influence over our highest legal tribunal a political agitator of immature judgment and untried doctrines who has done more to impair popular confidence in the American judiciary than any other man of our times.

A Great Work

The new Oxford dictionary, begun in 1898, has gone as far as Premiums and the editors hope to complete it by 1912. It accounts are credible, it is a meritorious work. The total number of columns already published is 29,275, each 10 1/2 inches long. Placed end to end, 2 1/2 inches wide, these columns would stretch 4 miles, 911 yards, 2 feet. So arranged and placed upright the column would rise nearly 24 times as high as the Eiffel Tower and about 53 times as high as the Great Pyramid. The number of words main and subordinate is 224,946. According to careful estimates, there are 34,351,680 words in the volumes. A work of this magnitude thus described in terms of space and number is, in no figurative sense, a monument to its makers. It is literally a great work, and it should be added that it is a noble work of scholarship, to which science, art and literature are indebted in no mean degree.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Submarine Workshop.—Nut Juice Ink—A Promising Fuel.—Breathing Troubles Three Miles in Air.—Heating Nets.—The Black Rose and the Blue.—Weight and Longevity.—Electric Surgery.

A novel method of working on the sea bottom is provided by the salvage apparatus to be tried near the Holland coast in an attempt to recover part of the $2,500,000 that was sunk in a British ship in 1797. A steel tube, large enough for a man to walk through and about 100 feet long, has at one end a metal chamber with windows and doors, and at the other end is arranged to clamp to the side of a vessel. Divers will walk down the tube to the chamber, from which they can emerge to the sea-bed through a system of air compartments. Powerful suction pumps at the side of the tube will suck away the sand until the sunken deck is reached, and as treasure is found in the hold the divers will transfer it to the chamber of the salvage tube. An engineer in this chamber will direct the divers by telephone.

An indelible ink tree, known to botanists as Semecarpus aucacardium, is chiefly found in India, but grows also in North Australia and the West Indies. Its nut supplies the natural marking fluid. When dried for commerce, the nut is heart-shaped and nearly black, and contains a black viscid juice. For marking linen or cotton this juice is mixed with quicklime. It can be made into marking ink by treating the nut with a mixture of alcohol and sulphuric ether, and is also used for black varnish.

The smokeless fuel of a London inventor is produced by mixing two parts by weight of bituminous coal with one of peat, and heating in a retort to 850 degrees F. The fuel yielded has high calorific value, ignites readily and is economical. The vapors driven off containing the smoke-forming hydrocarbons, are condensed, and yield superior pitch and other valuable products.

Balloon sickness and remedies for it have been a subject of experiment by Cronzon and Soubies, French biologists, in an ascent in which a height of about 18,000 feet was reached in four hours. The remedies tested were inhalations of pure oxygen and of Agazottis mixture for aeronauts, consisting of 87 per cent of oxygen and 13 per cent of carbonic acid. The first sickness was felt at a height of 13,300 feet, when one observer was attacked by pain in the back of the head and nape of the neck, which was followed by congestion of the veins of the face, mist before the eyes, and heaviness of the eyelids; at 14,800 feet the breathing became panting, and on trying to sit down the observer fell to the bottom of the car; and at 15,750 to 16,400 fatigue and drowsiness caused lapse of consciousness, questions being unanswered. On being relieved by gas the symptoms returned after a short interval, occurring six times in all. The pure oxygen and the mixture gave equal relief at first; at 15,000 feet the mixture removed the distress in breathing in 10 seconds, the carbonic acid seeming to stimulate the respiratory center; but at 16,000 feet only pure oxygen had any effect. Above 16,000 feet disagreeable symptoms were avoided by continuous inhalation of gas.

A net of fine resistance wires woven together with pure asbestos strings is the efficient heating unit supplied by a Westphalia manufacturer for all kinds of electric heating apparatus, such as car-heaters, foot-warmers, hot-plates, medical appliances, etc. Long heating causes no deterioration. For car-heaters several nets are mounted in parallel, being bolted together with small porcelain insulators between; but for hot-plates, etc., a single net is insulated between the metallic surfaces by sheets of perforated mica.

A recent flower-show at Regent's Park, London, included 2,000 varieties of roses, and it was stated that 459 new varieties have been added to the great rose family in three years. A nearly black rose was shown, with the assurance that the long-sought blue rose would be brought out soon.

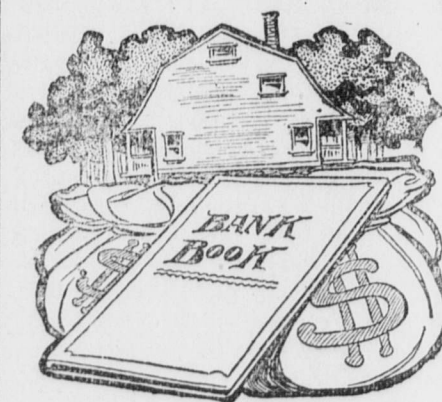

The greatest vitality and lowest mortality have been found by Dr. Brandreth Symonds in persons whose weight is within ten per cent of the standard. His investigations have been based on the records of 200,000 males, and have included all ages, and various disease tendencies as influenced by age as well as weight. For the normal or standard weight of a man 40 years old and 5 feet 6 inches tall 150 pounds is accepted, while the rule adding 3 per cent in weight for each extra inch proves fairly accurate. The standard weight increases with age in little men up to 45; in middle-sized men up to 50; and in the tall up to 55 or 60. Standards for women are not yet worked out, though it is known that at 20 women are 6 to 9 pounds lighter than men, the difference diminishing with age. Both overweight and underweight—each being a deviation of 20 per cent from the standard—affect health and longevity. Mortality increases as the excess weight rises above 20 per cent, and no overweight dies from old age, or even lives to 80. Underweight is less serious, as among 1078 male underweights 44 passed 80 and 2 reached 90. In the young, overweight may counteract predilection to consumption. Overweights, however, have far more than average liability to disease of brain, heart and stomach, effects of alcoholism, and diabetes; and pneumonia, contrary to common belief, is twice as fatal as among underweights. Consumption, especially in early life, is the dreaded disease of underweights.

The electric surgical knife, now being thoroughly tested by Prof. Bier of Berlin, has for a handle a glass rod six inches long inclosing a conducting wire, and the blade is probe-shaped and without cutting edge. A half-inch noiseless spark appears at the end of the probe when a high-frequency current is passing. This spark cuts soft tissues much as a hot knife sinks through butter, operating more quickly than the ordinary scalpel, while it is claimed that healing must follow more rapidly than usual. More profuse bleeding than in ordinary operations is a disadvantage.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, Prop.

SILAS MCBEE FOR TAFT

Regardless of past affiliations, students of affairs, doers and thinkers, are fast lining up for Judge Taft. A recent example is that of Silas McBee, editor of the "Churchman," of New York. In an interview he says:

"I am a North Carolinian by birth and lifelong democrat. I shall vote for Mr. Taft because he has it in his heart to bring my people of the South back into absolute union with the national life and to their historic place as a controlling force in the nation, and to do which would immortalize him as a statesman."

"I shall vote for him because he more nearly represents my ideas of government, of social order and economic policy than any living democrat, or any man before the people today, save alone Theodore Roosevelt, who is the only republican president I have ever voted for. Mr. Taft has administered every trust committed to him by the nation with an eye single to the nation's good and for the highest interests of the people that compose the nation."

Will Not Seal Divorce Papers.

When an interlocutory decree of divorce was granted today by Justice Aspinall in the Brooklyn supreme court to a wealthy man, E. Bartol Hall jr., an attempt was made to have the papers sealed on the ground that while the co-respondent, Rev. Benjamin Denham, former pastor of the First Church of the Disciples of Christ of this city, had eloped with Mrs. Hall, he "had a good reputation otherwise."

Justice Aspinall refused to seal the papers. "I am in favor," said the court, "of full publicity in all court proceedings. It is an outrage that millionaires can have their divorce papers sealed from the public, while people of small means cannot."

The lawyer asked secrecy for the woman's sake and argued that this was a case which the newspapers would gloat over, as Rev. Dr. Denham is still preaching, being now in Missouri.

"I hope," replied the justice, "that this preacher gets all the disgrace and publicity that's coming to him. The newspapers don't gloat over a case of this kind. It is a public duty for the newspapers to advertise the disgrace of lawbreakers. The fear of being written up in the newspapers is more potent in the prevention of crime than the fear of the courts. I shall seal no papers while I am sitting on the bench."

Governor Cummins' Prediction

That Bryan has a place in the world of usefulness was pointed out by Governor Albert R. Cummins, of Iowa, while on his recent visit to New York. Said he: "As to Bryan? Our people like him, but they like him as a Chautauqua lecturer, not as president of the United States."

That is one reason why Governor Cummins predicts that Iowa will roll up a plurality for Taft at from 30,000 to 50,000. This shows that the much-vaunted strength of Bryan in the Middle West is but a myth. Governor Cummins stated the case as far as Iowa is concerned in this way: "There is no weakening nor wavering on the part of the republicans in the campaign. They may differ on local questions, but when it comes to deciding in whose hands the government shall be placed, they have no hesitancy in uniting to save the country from another four-year period of democratic disaster."

UPHILL WORK.

The opening of the campaign in Amador county from the Bryanite side must have been decidedly disheartening to the supporters of the peerless one from Nebraska. In almost every respect the gathering was in painful contrast to the political meetings of years gone by. It may be true, that republican meetings nowadays suffer also by comparison with those held during a presidential canvass of bygone days. The general enthusiasm that found vent in torchlight processions blazing bonfires, and and outpouring of citizens from far and near, is largely lacking. But the democratic whoop-up this week was remarkable for its shortcomings in other ways, as showing the steady decadence of a once powerful national party. The one speaker of the evening introduced himself, not as an expounder of distinctive democratic doctrines, but as a special pleader in the interest of organized labor. He candidly admitted that were it not for the sop thrown out in the democratic platform by the insertion therein of the anti-injunction plank he would not be addressing them. This was his strong suit. To strike down the power of the courts in the issuance of writs of injunction in disputes between employes and employers was just the sort of millenium the ultra wing—the paid agitators—of the labor movement were praying for. It would place the strike, the boycott, picketing, and kindred discredited methods to the fore in the settlement of labor troubles. The trend toward anarchy involved in this proposition is self-evident. It was remarked by some of the hearers that the speech would have sounded less discordant if delivered in the hall of a labor organization, instead of an appeal for suffrage of American citizens for class legislation of the most dangerous stamp. The significant feature is the straits to which democracy is reduced in its despairing efforts to trap votes. The party seems to be working on the theory that in the labor organizations there are enough votes to bring enough doubtful states to the democratic fold, provided they can be had fairly solid, and hence they are bending their energies in this direction. Gompers in the east and McArthur and other paid officers of the union are out stumping for Bryan, proclaiming doctrines which are subversive of the very principles of good government. It is the same spirit that joined hands with populism and other delusive fads, under which the democracy has been wasted to its present skeleton form. "Anything to win," is the slogan, directed this year in a frantic effort to muzzle the courts in labor troubles. This course tends to the disruption of both the labor organizations and the democratic party. Intelligent workingmen refuse to be dictated to in politics by officials of their labor unions. On the other hand the conservative element of democracy cannot approve of the drift of the party from old-time moorings, toward ultra radicalism. The sacrifice of principle for expediency is rarely a winning game. As for the masses of independent voters who train with no party, they are apt to take no chances with the heresies of Bryan. They will prefer republican rule, and a continuance of prosperity which that party's supremacy has never failed to insure for the American people.

The city trustees at their meeting held last evening, by a unanimous vote, passed an ordinance raising the liquor license within the city limits from $15 to $30 per quarter. The liquor men opposed the increased, employing A. Caminetti as before to look after their side. It was evident from the introduction of the new ordinance following so closely on the defeat of the previous measure, that the board was resolved to put a heavier toll on this traffic. The only departure from the original intention was in making the increased license go into effect in February, 1909, instead of November next, giving the saloonmen three month's grace to prepare for the new deal.

SERVANTS' SIGN LANGUAGE.

Peculiarities of Employers and Tourists Noted by Marks.

Servants and hotel porters in many cities of Europe have a sign language as complete as that of the American tramp.

"It is not generally known," said a courier, "that servants are in the habit of giving useful tips to their successors and to the man who delivers the groceries and meat by marks on the back entrance. In most of the big Paris flats and apartments, such as Americans like to take for the season, the back door is literally covered with barely perceptible signs which nobody but the initiated can understand.

"A freshly engaged domestic knows exactly what to expect, whether his masters are easy or hard to please, whether it is 'monsieur' or 'madame' who is hard to get along with. Other signs tell whether the food is good or bad, whether the work is difficult or not, etc.

"The boy from the grocer's or the baker's or the butcher's will also be informed whether he can expect a big tip or not.

"The system is even more developed among hotel servants. A family arriving from Italy, after having refused to give what some Italian porter considered a sufficient tip, will have the fact advertised in every hotel he visits in Switzerland or France. A little mark on the trunk is all that is needed."—Philadelphia Ledger.

AMERICAN FRENCH.

The Struggles of a New Yorker in a Paris Restaurant.

He gazed complacently at the gay labels on his trunk. "Funny how you hear in Paris"—so he continued his reminiscences of travel—"our thin American accent struggling with the sonorous French tongue. You hear queer mistakes, too—no end of 'em. The queerest I came across was made by a New York man.

"This tourist at the Chatham wanted to say, 'I am hungry.' He should have said, 'J'ai faim.' Then the waiter would have brought him a meal at once. What he did say was:

"'Je suis fameux, garcon.' He said there, 'I'm famous, waiter.' And the waiter, impressed, bowed and smiled. 'Congratulations, sir.'

"No food came. He must have made an error, so he tried again:

"'Garcon, j'ai une femme.' That meant he had a wife. The waiter said he was sure she was a winner.

"Rather red now, he took a third dive:

"'Je suis femme.' This time the New Yorker said he was a woman.

"And madam dresses in this way for comfort's sake?" the waiter inquired, with a gallant smile.—New York Press.

"Chuck It, Duke!"

While the Duke of Connaught was in Cairo he went for a stroll one morning, and on his way back to his quarters he came face to face with an old Englishman wearing the ribbon of the Indian mutiny on his breast. The duke stopped and spoke to the man about his military service for some little time. Presently the man said, not knowing, of course, to whom he was speaking, "Are you in the army yourself, then, sir?" The duke smiled and admitted that he was. "Getting on all right?" was the next question. The duke smiled again and said that he had not very much to grumble at, on the whole, though perhaps he was not doing quite so well as he could wish. "No, and you never will, my boy," was the surprising retort of the veteran. "What you want in the army today is either brains or a tremendous amount of influence behind you. You may take my tip, old chap, and chuck it!"—London T. P. O.

Fencing With Umbrellas.

Recently a French publication printed a picture of some American girls fencing with umbrellas and stated that they were trying to acquire thus the necessary skill and assurance to parry, with a simple gesture, an attack of Apaches.

It also stated that this sport was not born in America; that for several years in France a noted fencing mistress, Mme. Guillemot, at the same time that she taught fencing with the sword for hygienic reasons and for personal defense, also taught her pupils to "play" with the umbrella.

The article finishes by saying that it is certainly "piquant" that this modern application of an ancient sport was taught by a Parisienne long before America claimed the original idea.

Spirit of the Open Life.

The great charm of scenery and the country life is the moral feeling that seems to pervade it. This has prevailed through all English literature from Chaucer to Wordsworth and down to our own times. It has cast its spell over almost all of our Canadian poets, who have wooed nature in her most secret haunts and studied her minutest caprices.—Montreal Witness.

The Lost Town of Indiana.

For more than three-quarters of a century Salisbury Ind., has been a lost town.

Where once was a flourishing city in embryo in Wayne county, not a vestige of human habitation remains. Usually, when a town retrogrades, there is at least a remnant of its prosperity left. Not so with Salisbury. Not a building stands to show that from 1810 to 1820 it was a prosperous community, which had evolved from frame to brick buildings, and which had aspirations of becoming an inland metropolis. Only a creek and a country road remain of what was once Salisbury.

When Salisbury ceased to be the county seat it went into a rapid decline. Centerville robbed Salisbury of its birthright. And from 1820, when the brick courthouse became useless, Salisbury rapidly succumbed to the blow.

In six years there were hardly a dozen families left. Then silently one by one, they too, stole away. Salisbury expired without a gasp, and the rest of the thriving world knew not that it had gone.

As the years went by Centerville lost her honors also. Richmond became the county seat. But that didn't help Salisbury. Nothing remained of that ill-fated burg but a few buildings. And gradually even they succumbed to the general decline. One by one they rotted or were carted away. Not even a shed remained to mark the poor town's site. Salisbury was off the map.

All that is now left of Salisbury is a legend. A pretty legend it is, though; one that goes far beyond the modern bustle and thrift that brushed Salisbury off the map.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century, so the tradition runs, a band of pioneers came upon two Indian lovers at their trysting-place. Like the bold young brave that he was, the redskin valiantly defended himself and his sweetheart from capture, and in the struggle both were killed and went to the happy hunting grounds together.

After the struggle the pioneers became charmed with the beauty of the spot. They decided to settle there and Salisbury was born.

But it was a luckless birth, attended, so the legend runs, by the curse of the red maiden's old mother, who declared that the town would not live, but would disappear from the face of the earth.

It was the first settlement in Wayne county. And among its noted sons was Oliver P. Morton, the war governor of Indiana. But, though fortune seemed to smile at first, it soon began to frown, and now Salisbury is but a memory.
